

Subject:

It's obvious that the GOP has absolute zero sense of judgement since trump has taken office. He has done so many outrageous and politically unpopular things in the last 2 years, that his crookedness has rubbed off on the whole GOP party. Thinking that if trump can get by with it, the rest of the GOP figures they may as well try it too.

Examples are massive voting fraud by North Carolina's GOP, Michigan's GOP handcuffing the incoming Democratic governor and what really upsets me, is Wisconsin limiting Tony Evers power as the new governor and Josh Kaul as our Attorney General. The only Wisc. GOP member that had any sense of conscience was Robert Cowles. In my opinion, all other GOP members should be castrated in public and hung out to dry by what's left.

I legally voted for Tony Evers and tens of thousands of other Wisconsin citizens did also. Tony won the election fair and square, even in spite of all of your gerrymandering. Eight years ago, Walker came into the state house with un-restrictive executive powers and now you want to take it away from Evers. Why is that? Obviously, the GOP is cocky enough to think that they are superior and only they have the right answers to every situation. The truth is that the GOP was absolutely wrong and we citizens didn't think you had the right answers. So you lost and deservingly so!!!

I can't understand and it's hard to believe just how bold the GOP is. What you did the other night is so absolutely un-American and viciously spiteful. How you can live with yourselves after your un-American actions is beyond me. My guess is that your bold outrageous actions pissed off a ton of Wisconites (Dem and GOP). I believe that the GOP may suffer the consequences of your actions for years to come.

I've been an independent voter for 5 decades but you have convinced me to never, ever vote for another Republican in any election.

I wish all of you a lifetime of catastrophic bad luck. Republicans have NO CLASS!!!

Green Bay, WI