I voted for you twice. It won't happen again. After leaning right most of my voting life, I now will vote Democratic for the rest of my life as it relates to state politics. Nice try....this is good for the balance of power. If that is the case, why did this legislation not get voted in until after Governor Walker lost his bid for re-election... hmhhh.

All I can say is: Term Limits. One term and you have sold your state and your own voters out, for party politics. Thanks for hearing me out.
